

School Ambassador Qualities – the things that make our Ambassadors Role models

In order to become an Ambassador, children will be showing these qualities

Respect	Uses manners		Always wears correct uniform	Follows instructions of teacher (does not answer back)	Shows respect to school and environment by treating with care	Shows respect to people in the language that is used	Does the right thing, even with no one is looking	Models on task behaviour to others
Honesty	Does the right thing, even when no one is looking (Integrity)		Trustworthy		Responsible		If do something wrong, own up	Let an adult or teacher know if saw something happen that is naughty
Cooperation	Helpful to teacher		Helpful to others (both friends , peers and people outside class)		Treat others nicely with words and actions		Be understanding	Get on with others (don't be argumentative)	Deal with frustration and anger appropriately
Self-Discipline	Responsible	Resilience – not giving up easily	Take ownership of actions and words		Being on time	Impartial – not just helping friends.	Not easily swayed or led by peers	Be consistent, committed and reliable	Does not blame others, takes responsibility for own tasks
Creativity	Shows initiative			Willing to try new ways to do things		Asks questions if unsure what to do		Willing to improve and try new things
Excellence	Striving to do your best and always trying to do better		Determination - always trying your hardest		Be well organised		Completes homework tasks	Setting an example with uniform and wearing your badge	Remember responsibilities/ duties
Effective Communicator	Listens to others with respect			Be able to speak in front of others.		Communicate with groups that you work with		Be able to mediate in playground problems without taking sides
Make a difference	Be prepared to give up some time to help others e.g. helping with Juniors, library, IT room, games			Show community spirit – be prepared to help with things to make Leamington school a fun place.			Being involved in what is happening e.g. nursery, games for juniors		